On the trail: (all trail descriptions will be westbound, follow in reverse for eastbound)

This segment provides more challenges, including navigating across a beaver dam, and fording the Rock River. Some of this segment is within the Rock River Canyon Wilderness.

From the parking spot at (46.424791,-86.977818), the trail goes west immediately crossing a beaver dam. When the grass is tall, it is very difficult to see where to cross the dam so instead of following the trail, follow a social trail from the parking spot downstream (south) about 50 yards to where you can easily cross the creek and then return upstream to the trail. The ford over the Rock River is not too difficult most of the year. During spring runoff (snow melt), it can be knee to waist deep. In late summer/fall, you can step on stones and barely get your feet wet. Once leaving the Wilderness, you will be on old logging roads until you reach the Silver Creek Bridge at (46.403722,-86.998244).
